Did You Know?

Since 1985, the American Academy of Dermatology Skin Cancer Screening Program has:

- Enabled dermatologists to conduct more than 2 million free skin cancer screenings.
- Detected more than 188,000 suspicious lesions, including more than 21,500 suspected melanomas.

Since 1995, the Academy has designated the first Monday in May as Melanoma Monday®, which officially kicks off Melanoma/Skin Cancer Detection and Prevention Month.

Skin cancer is the most common form of cancer.
It is treatable and beatable with early detection.
